BRITAIN ISSUES ANOTHER DECREE

Admiralty Rule Affects Ships Touching Canadian Ports.

ENEMIES WILL BE REMOVED

American Steamship Companies Are Notified That All German, Austrian or Turkish Passengers or Members of the Crews Will Be Arrested and Held as Prisoners of War.

Seattle, April 17.—American steamship companies operating between Seattle and Alaskan ports and Seattle and San Francisco were notified by the British admiralty that all German, Austrian or Turkish passengers or members of the crews would be removed from any vessel calling at a Canadian port and held as prisoners of war.

As a result of the order the Pacific Coast Steamship company immediately discharged ten German members of the crew of the steamship President, which sailed for San Francisco.

Two German passengers, who had purchased their tickets, were not allowed to board the President. Two others, who had taken out their first naturalization papers, insisted that they were entitled to be considered American citizens and were taken aboard.

The Pacific Coast company announced it would book no enemies of Great Britain on the President, which calls at Victoria, en route from San Francisco to Seattle, but would carry those passengers on the liners Congress and Queen, which omit the Victoria call.

The same ruling will apply to the company's Alaska steamers which call at Prince Rupert, B. C., and to the vessels of the Boreas Line Transportation company, which also call at Canadian ports.

The Alaska Steamship company and the Admiral line, engaged in the Seattle-Alaska trade, are not affected by the order, as they touch at no Canadian port.

Correspondent Says Sultan Is Willing to Abdicate.

Paris, April 17.—The Dedeaghat, Bulgaria, correspondent of the Temps sends the following dispatch regarding a Turkish imperial council in Constantinople:

"An imperial council over which the sultan presided was held at Constantinople. The possibility of the transfer of the capital was discussed. Crown Prince Yussuf Izzeddin severely criticized the policy of Enver Pasha and the Young Turks and their actions shortly before the war. The sultan was greatly dejected. He said he owed to the Young Turks and their revolution his accession to the throne and would rather not have reigned than see the country go to ruin.

"The sultan declared he had decided to abdicate in case a transfer of the capital became necessary; in fact, preferred now to be relieved of power and would be happy if Prince Yussuf Izzeddin could succeed him immediately."

Practically all the horses have been bought at sales held in various towns of the Billings district. Two thousand more horses will be purchased here and shipped east within the next thirty days, the agents declare.

Back to Matteawan.

New York, April 17.—Harry Kendall Thaw was ordered back to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan by the appellate division of the New York supreme court.

In an opinion concurred in by all the justices the court affirmed the denial by Supreme Court Justice Page of a motion to return Thaw to the jurisdiction of New Hampshire, whence he was extradited to stand trial for conspiring to escape from Matteawan asylum.

The court ruled that the original order committing him to the institution was still valid. Plans are being formulated to take the case to the state court of appeals.

Thaw himself refused to comment on the action of the court.

Need a "Peace Hero."

Washington, April 17.—Oscar Straus of New York, American representative at the Hague tribunal, called on Secretary Bryan, but said his visit had no special significance. He was in Washington to attend the meeting of the Carnegie peace foundation.

"The United States government," Mr. Straus said, "is waiting for a cessation of hostilities in Europe in a mood of impartiality and neutrality. It does not matter what the dictates of the heart may be or where our pity or sympathies lie, the government follows the cold equities and is neutral."

The papers say there appears no doubt that a German submarine was guilty and the question is asked generally whether the captain of the submarine was acting against specific instructions to avoid sinking neutral ships or whether the orders recently were changed by Germany.

One reason given for the submarine's action is the widespread report that 500 Belgians were to cross from England on Wednesday night en route to join the forces fighting in Belgium under King Albert.

On their return our aviators encountered three aeroplanes, to whom they gave chase, forcing them to leave. Our squadron suffered no mishaps, although subjected to a violent cannonade from the Metz."

NONPARTISAN LAW PASSED

All State Officers Included Under California Act.

Sacramento, Cal., April 17.—Non-partisan elections of all state officers is established in bills passed by the senate. The bills had been passed by the house. California is said to be the first state to adopt such legislation.

Opponents of the bills say a referendum will be invoked to put the issues of state nonpartisanship to a vote of the people.

STATE BANKS ARE STRONG

Failure Unknown in Minnesota for Three Years.

St. Paul, April 17.—The 891 state banks of Minnesota have not developed a single weak spot in three years, A. H. Turrill, state superintendent of banking, said by way of supplement to the biennial report for the period ending July 31, 1914, which shows no failure of a state bank in that period. The state banking department has supervision at this time over 891 banks and sixty-three building and loan, ten savings banks and eight trust companies. Every institution is examined not less than twice a year.

THE BATTLE FRONT

Petrograd, Russia, Feb. 16, via London.—The number of head and arm wounds of the men at the front is enormous, for men in trenches expose only their heads and arms. Many hundreds are hit in the head and death does not result from the wound. Occasionally one may see the slightly wounded walk back with heads bound up or arms in slings. Motor trucks loaded with wounded tear along the roads leading back from the extreme front. Perhaps forty percent of the wounded are back on the firing line after three months' care and rest in a hospital.
It all depends on a man's health and blood. If the blood is pure and good,
the soldier gets the first aid, proper treatment and his wounds heal by first intention.

Good blood is everything to every
man. It means fresh strong nerves,
good digestion, good circulation.
Those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery marvel at a man today with skin all broken out; see him a few weeks later after using the "Discovery," his skin is all cleared up, eyes bright, and he is contented with himself.

The foundation of good health is good blood! Are you pale? Are you weak? Are you no longer ambitious or energetic? Have you pimples or boils? Do you suffer from headaches, low spirits? Then you are anaemic—your blood is thin, lacking in healing, strength-giving red corpuscles.
Then your blood is impure—and your liver is not up to its task of clearing the blood from the poisons accumulated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a temperance remedy that will restore to you rich, health-giving blood—a remedy proved by experience (in tablet or liquid form). "It is a glyceric extract of roots from our forests, known to science as those which will best give the stomach,
liver and bowels needed help—Adv.

GOLF SEASON OPENS

By Hal Sheridan

(Written for the United Press)

New York, April 17—"Fore" was cried today in the intercollegiate golf championship season of 1915. All eyes of the collegiate golf world were turned today to the Princeton University golf course, where the 1914
championship Tigers play the opening game with the golf experts from Harvard university.

The championship this year is generally believed to lie between the Tigers and the Crimson, with Princeton having the edge because all of her team except two were on the championship squad last year.

Harvard's team, too, presented an almost unbroken lineup, with all 1914 veterans except one, R. M. Baker, Harvard's No. 1 man was E. H.
Ellis, present intercollegiate individual champion. Its team is regarded as exceptionally strong and well balanced. Harvard, for the first time in its history, will also have a freshman team this year. The freshmen are not eligible for the varsity for spring matches but will be eligible for the finals next fall.

Princeton's track athletes will also be in the limelight today on the annual Calendonian games at Philadelphia. The Tigers' oarsmen also have their first real workout in a match with the Middies at Annapolis. Princeton has a strenuous rowing program for this year and will enter an eight in the triangular regatta with Cornell, and Yale on Lake Carnegie
a month hence.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution
and assisting nature in doing its work.
The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimo-

THE BATTLE FRONT

Petrograd, Russia, Feb. 16, via London.—The number of head and arm wounds of the men at the front is enormous, for men in trenches expose only their heads and arms. Many hundreds are hit in the head and death does not result from the wound. Occasionally one may see the slightly wounded walk back
with heads bound up or arms in slings. Motor trucks loaded with wounded tear along the roads leading back from the extreme front. Perhaps forty percent of the wounded
are back on the firing line after three months' care and rest in a hospital.
It all depends on a man's health and blood. If the blood is pure and good,
the soldier gets the first aid, proper
treatment and his wounds heal by
first intention.

Good blood is everything to every
man. It means fresh strong nerves,
good digestion, good circulation.
Those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery marvel at a man today with skin all broken out; see him a few weeks later after using the "Discovery," his skin is all cleared up, eyes bright, and he is contented with himself.

The foundation of good health is good blood! Are you pale? Are you weak? Are you no longer ambitious or energetic? Have you pimples or boils? Do you suffer from headaches, low spirits? Then you are anemic—
your blood is thin, lacking in healing, strength-giving red corpuscles.
Then your blood is impure—and your
liver is not up to its task of clearing
the blood from the poisons accumulated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a temperance remedy that will restore to you rich, health-giving
blood—a remedy proved by experience (in tablet or liquid form). It is a glyceric extract of roots from our forests, known to science as those
which will best give the stomach,
liver and bowels needed help.—Adv.

GOLF SEASON OPENS

By Hal Sheridan

(Written for the United Press)

New York, April 17—"Fore" was
cried today in the intercollegiate golf championship season of 1915. All eyes of the collegiate golf world were turned today to the Princeton University golf course, where the 1944
championship Tigers play the opening
game with the golf experts from Harvard university.

The championship this year is generally believed to lie between the Tigers and the Crimson, with Princeton
having the edge because all of her
team except two were on the championship squad last year.

Harvard's team, too, presented an almost unbroken lineup, with all 1914 veterans except one, R. M. Baker, Harvard's No. 1 man was E. H.
Ellis, present intercollegiate individual champion. Its team is regarded as exceptionally strong and well balanced. Harvard, for the first time in its history, will also have a freshman
team this year. The freshmen are not eligible for the varsity for spring
matches but will be eligible for the
finals next fall.

Princeton's track athletes will also
be in the limelight today on the annual Calceon games at Philadelphia. The Tigers' oarsmen also have
their first real workout in a match
with the Middies at Annapolis.
Princeton has a strenuous rowing program for this year and will enter an eight in the triangular regatta with Cornell and Yale on Lake Carnegie
a month hence.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation
of the disease, and giving the patient
strength by building up the constitution
and assisting nature in doing its work.
The proprietors have so much faith in
its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it cures. Send for list of testimonials.

TEACHERS GALORE WERE IN BRAINERD

Crow Wing County Teachers Association Re-Elected Caroline Barron as its President

THE SPELLING CONTEST HELD

Vivian and Wilma McFerren, of Riverton, Win $10 Cash and Dictionaries as Prizes

A feature of the Crow Wing County Teachers Association meeting was the spelling contest held Saturday morning in the high school rooms, over 150 pupils, prize spellers of rural and other schools participating.

The prizes, $5 each, contributed by Leon E. Lum, of Duluth, were won by two sisters, Vivian McFerren, aged 13, and Wilma McFerren, aged 11, of Riverton. In addition, both girls received Webster's unabridged dictionaries. Vivian won the prize for oral spelling and Vivian and Wilma both received 100 per cent in the written test. Both are pupils of Miss Nora Barron.

Here are the 50 words used in the written test. Check yourself or your friend on the words and see how many you miss:

Believe, speak, volunteer, solemn, vinegar, prairie, kerosene, visible, animal, indelible, salve, careless, knowledge, gnaw, territorial, foreign, recede, drowned, receive, sieve, neuter, jewel, skillful, proceed, panel, cancellation, engine, definition, gracious, vaccinate, dissatisfy, elevate, guise, maintain, necessity, irresistible, disappear, fulfill, lemon, careful, meant, ankle, adhere, blamable, capitol, villain, accept, magazine, already, scholar.

Try it and then you may realize what it means to score in such a contest. The oral test was every bit as hard as the written.

"Celery" proved a stumbling block for many. Some spelled it "salary." "Decease" proved a hard word for some.

Here is a list of some of the words in the oral contest: celery, candidate, genuine, reverence, convalescent, auxiliary, condescend, deference, extravagant, barbarism, syllable, rustle, petition, decease, tragedy, develop, accommodate, parallel, supersede, occurrence, disappear, character, professor, descendant, prejudice, restaurant, brethren, persevere, particular, deceit, virtuals, disease, millinery, sovereign, disconsolate, representative, strategy, arid, criticize, wonder, immediate.

The officers elected by the Crow Wing County Teachers Association were:

President—Miss Caroline Barron.
Vice President—Miss Olive Johnson.

Secretary—Miss Rachel Roderick.
Treasurer—Miss Ruth Simmons.

The meeting was a complete success. The papers given by the local teachers were splendid and displayed real ability.

Roland Barron's address Friday evening was greatly enjoyed and a large crowd was present. The musical numbers were furnished by Miss Mildred Wood, Miss Anna Michaelson, J. Gussie Small and Miss Mildred Skauge were thoroughly enjoyed. The girls of the Normal Training Department of the high school served refreshments after the lecture.

Roland Barron, in the course of his address, said: "This opportunity of speaking to the Crow Wing County Teachers Association is a source of great satisfaction to me in one respect. For four long years I sat in this room and allowed teachers to talk to me and during all that time I thought, 'Oh, if I could only change places with them.' This is the first time in my life that conditions are reversed and if I cause you suffering tonight you must lay the blame to the door of those teachers who took advantage of my helplessness in former days.

"The first element which strikes the casual observer is the remarkable advancement of your profession in our own country. This uplifting of your schools has been possible only through the sacrifice of the best of the young men and women of each generation. Self-sacrifice because the compensation of our teachers has not kept pace with that of other occupations. It is a sad commentary upon our present day civilization that the teaching profession demands more from the teachers and gives less in return than any other profession."

Mr. Barron praised the passing of the teachers' pension act by the present legislature.

"Minnesota is a rural state in the sense that our House of Representatives is controlled by members from the farming communities. And the men who most strenuously opposed the teachers pension bill, the men who who most bitterly attacked our University and its President, the men who are always found objecting to educational progress, are farmer representatives. And right here you teachers have the greatest conceivable opportunity for good work. These country members of our legislature, the hard, shell-backed farmers who have succeeded in a measure without education and are consequently suspicious of education—they are going to die off in time and their places will be filled by your pupils of today. And by arousing the spirit of progress in your pupils today you can control the legislation of the future years."

Mr. Barron referred to a bill before the legislature providing that the Bible be taught in public schools. "If the citizens of Minnesota," said Mr. Barron, "wish the Bible taught to their children, surely in the home or in the church they can find means to so instruct them, without shifting this responsibility upon the already overburdened shoulders of the teacher."

"The profession of teaching, above all others must necessarily be one of Your success as a teacher of educational subjects will attract attention but your efforts as a counselor and advisor of human souls will pass unnoticed save by those you help. It is hard to realize that your greatest greatness must ever be unknown."

The girls of the normal training department of the high school served refreshments after the lecture.

Mr. Barron, speaker of the evening, was presented with a beautiful leather traveling case as a token of esteem and appreciation by the teachers of Crow Wing county.

She leaves a husband and four children, the youngest an infant boy being born on the day of her death.

Relatives from away attending were her brothers, Rev. Jacob Dordal of Mount Horeb, Wis., and John Dordal of Red Wing, Minn., a student at the Hauge's Seminary there.

The funeral was largely attended by neighbors and friends. Miss Thorp of Hubert and others gave vocal selections.

Mrs. Oliverson was a Christian woman of firm and sincere convictions and died resigned to the Lord's will.

Her infant child was baptized at the same time. It is likely that he will be taken to Mount Horeb, Wis., to be cared for by Mrs. Oliverson's mother and other relatives.

YOUR attention is respectfully called to an important point not generally known, that a laxative should have a tonic element to successfully meet constipation.

Mr. John B. Capers, of 619 Pecan St., Fort Worth, Texas, had a significant experience in this particular. He was afflicted with a severe case of constipation and bowel trouble. He spent a good deal of money in trying to find a remedy. To his astonishment, Peruna very quickly relieved him of his bad symptoms.

This happened a number of years ago. Since then, Mr. Capers states that he has had similar attacks of trouble, the prominent symptom of which is constipation, and has always found prompt and efficient relief from Peruna. He says: "Up to the time I started using your Peruna I could drink castor oil like water. It did no good. As for salts, they were of no use. Physicians of all kinds and classes were used, but we had to call on the fountain syringe for help." Peruna was able to correct this condition completely in Mr. Capers' case, and there is every reason to believe that if it was the tonic qualities of Peruna, added to the laxative qualities, that procured this very desirable result.

TEACHERS GALORE WERE IN BRAINERD

Crow Wing County Teachers Association Re-Elected Caroline Barron as its President

THE SPELLING CONTEST HELD

Vivian and Wilma McFerren, of Riverton, Win $10 Cash and Dictionaries as Prizes

A feature of the Crow Wing County Teachers Association meeting was the spelling contest held Saturday morning in the high school rooms, over 150 pupils, prize spellers of rural and other schools participating.

The prizes, $5 each, contributed by Leon E. Lum, of Duluth, were won by two sisters, Vivian McFerren, aged 13, and Wilma McFerren, aged 11, of Riverton. In addition, both girls received Webster's unabridged dictionaries. Vivian won the prize for oral spelling and Vivian and Wilma both received 100 per cent in the written test. Both are pupils of Miss Nora Barron.

Here are the 50 words used in the written test. Check yourself or your friend on the words and see how many you miss:

Believe, speak, volunteer, solemn, vinegar, prairie, kerosene, visible, animal, indelible, salve, careless, knowledge, gnaw, territorial, foreign, recede, drowned, receive, sieve, neuter, jewel, skillful, proceed, panel, cancellation, engine, definition, gracious, vaccinate, dissatisfy, elevate, guise, maintain, necessity, irresistible, disappear, fulfill, lemon, careful, meant, ankle, adhere, blamable, capitol, villain, accept, magazine, already, scholar.

Try it and then you may realize what it means to score in such a contest. The oral test was every bit as hard as the written.

"Celery" proved a stumbling block for many. Some spelled it "salary." "Decease" proved a hard word for some.

Here is a list of some of the words in the oral contest: celery, candidate, genuine, reverence, convalesce, auxiliary, condescend, deference, extravagant, barbarism, syllable, rustle, petition, decease, tragedy, develop, accommodate, parallel, supersede, occurrence, disappear, character, professor, descendant, prejudice, restaurant, brethren, persevere, particular, deceit, victuals, disease, millinery, sovereign, disconsolate, representative, strategy, arid, criticize, wonder, immediate.

The officers elected by the Crow Wing County Teachers Association were:

President—Miss Caroline Barron.
Vice President—Miss Olive Johnson.

Secretary—Miss Rachel Roderick.
Treasurer—Miss Ruth Simmons.

The meeting was a complete success. The papers given by the local teachers were splendid and displayed real ability.

Roland Barron's address Friday evening was greatly enjoyed and a large crowd was present. The musical numbers were furnished by Miss Mildred Wood, Miss Anna Michaelson, J. Gussie Small and Miss Mildred Skauge were thoroughly enjoyed. The girls of the Normal Training Department of the high school served refreshments after the lecture.

Roland Barron, in the course of his address, said: "This opportunity of speaking to the Crow Wing County Teachers Association is a source of great satisfaction to me in one respect. For four long years I sat in this room and allowed teachers to talk to me and during all that time I thought, 'Oh, if I could only change places with them.' This is the first time in my life that conditions are reversed and if I cause you suffering tonight you must lay the blame to the door of those teachers who took advantage of my helplessness in former days.

"The first element which strikes the casual observer is the remarkable advancement of your profession in our own country. This uplifting of your schools has been possible only through the sacrifice of the best of the young men and women of each generation. Self-sacrifice because the compensation of our teachers has not kept pace with that of other occupations. It is a sad commentary upon our present day civilization that the teaching profession demands more from the teachers and gives less in return than any other profession."

Mr. Barron praised the passing of the teachers' pension act by the present legislature.

"Minnesota is a rural state in the sense that our House of Representatives is controlled by members from the farming communities. And the men who most strenuously opposed the teachers pension bill, the men who most bitterly attacked our University and its President, the men who are always found objecting to educational progress, are farmer representatives. And right here you teachers have the greatest conceivable opportunity for good work. These country members of our legislature, the hard, shell-backed farmers who have succeeded in a measure without education and are consequently suspicious of education—they are going to die off in time and their places will be filled by your pupils of today. And by arousing the spirit of progress in your pupils today you can control the legislation of the future years."

Mr. Barron referred to a bill before the legislature providing that the Bible be taught in public schools. "If the citizens of Minnesota," said Mr. Barron, "wish the Bible taught to their children, surely in the home or in the church they can find means to so instruct them, without shifting this responsibility upon the already overburdened shoulders of the teacher."

"The profession of teaching, above all others must necessarily be one of

The girls of the normal training department of the high school served refreshments after the lecture.

Mr. Barron, speaker of the evening, was presented with a beautiful leather traveling case as a token of esteem and appreciation by the teachers of Crow Wing county.

The following teachers were registered.

CONGRESSIONAL SEEDS

Garden and flower seeds are sent out in large quantities by the members of congress under their franking privilege at this season of the year. The members of congress are not so much to blame as the law stands. The expense of buying the seeds, which does not amount to anything to the individual receiving them, in the aggregate is enormous and the additional expense of the postage that the government has to stand makes a handsome amount that would go a long way toward helping the government pay the expense of the rural carrier service, that the present administration seems bent on demoralizing. The seeds are merely political patronage with which the members keep in touch with their constituents, at government expense. The Verndale Sun, the Long Prairie Leader and other papers are advertising the fact that they have large quantities of the seeds from their congressman which will be mailed free on application.

CROWDING THE MOURNERS

A paragraph in a local exchange says:
A postoffice inspector visited Litchfield last week and ordered the editors of the Litchfield papers to stop the papers to all subscribers who were a year in arrears or else put a one cent stamp on the paper so delinquent. This order has been a law for some time but apparently it has not been lived up to and the department is just getting busy and enforcing its provisions. It will have the effect of putting some newspapers out of business, as far as circulation is concerned. The Dispatch is fortunate in having a bona fide list that will stand the test.

BEAUTY IS ORIGINAL

Miss Craig, hailed as a noted Boston beauty specialist, is giving free massages at Princeton and hopes to place the young ladies of that place on an equal footing with the home made beauties of Brainerd and other up to date cities.
Evidently the editor of the Park Rapids Journal never investigated Brainerd products or he would not have perpetrated the above slam. Come down here, Charley Ward, and you will be shown.

The prediction is being freely made in political circles in Washington that the next few months will witness the return of former President Roosevelt to the republican party. Within the last few days, the former president has held a number of conferences with republican and progressive leaders on the present political situation and several of the progressives who have called on him have announced their intention of rejoining the party.

What War Moves Mean

By J. W. T. Mason
(Written for the United Press)
New York, April 17.—The long delay that is occurring in the resumption of the allied "campaign" against Constantinople is undoubtedly reassuring to the Turks and makes improbable reports from London and Paris that Turkey is anxious to agree to a separate peace. The Turks have not as yet had any cause for regret for having entered the war. They have the better of the military situation as it exists today and if the allies are not able to press the Mohammedans any harder than they have done in the past, Turkey will emerge from the war a winner. If Bulgaria and Greece were to enter the war on the side of the allies the Turks would probably lose all their remaining territory in Europe and would be pushed back into Asia. But this most serious of all dangers to Turkey's ambitions has been so successfully evaded by both German diplomacy and by the inherent factors in the situation that Turkish optimism for the future is not without a basis. The Turks have lost during the war the southern part of the ancient Babylonian empire. British troops now occupy this district forming the Turkish headlands of the Persian Gulf. No other part of Turkish territory is in possession of the enemy, except possibly an isolated spot or two along the Armenian frontier.

On the other hand the Turks have penetrated some distance into Russian Caucasus province and they occupy as well a very large area of northern Persia. A comparison of the gains and losses is distinctly favorable to Turkey. While the Persian gulf hinterland is of immense value to England, it is simply a waste plot of ground to the unenterprising Turks. On the other hand Turkey has long been ambitious to acquire a foothold in Persia, which with its Mohammedan civilization is far more attractive to the Turks than the nomadic lands of southern Babylonia.

At the same time all the prestige of the recent Dardanelles engagement has fallen to the Turkish defenders and of course their German allies. It is unquestionably stimulating to the Turks to feel that the warships of France and England not only have been unable to make any serious impression on the Dardanelles fortifications, but also have been compelled to withdraw after serious losses. All these circumstances make it highly improbable that the Turks are desirous of making a separate surrender to the allies. Turkey doubtless will be willing to agree to peace now if she were allowed to retain what her armies have won in exchange for the loss of the Persian gulf territory. This, too, would be a satisfactory peace for England, but it is of course out of the question at present. Neither France nor Russia would agree to such a proposal and England's major interests are bound up with those of her allies.

At the Grand

"The Madcap Queen of Gredshoten" tonight, a two reel romantic and costume drama of life in a Balkan kingdom, in which Grace Cunard and Francis Ford are featured.

In the history of criminology throughout the world, science has loaned itself first to one side and then to the other, now aiding the law in its pursuit of the criminal, now assisting the criminal to escape undetected. In a struggle thus evenly balanced it was inevitable that some of the world's keenest minds should line up on one side or the other, for a great brain dearly loves a tilt with another of equal power. Monday and Tuesday "The Black Box" opens with much mystery and suspense.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Brainerd Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Brainerd citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. Charles Erickson, 1103 E. Oak St., Brainerd, says: "I suffered from weak kidneys for two or three years. I had dull pains through the small of my back that kept me in poor health. I also had headaches and dizzy spells. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and used them regularly. They made me feel much better in every way."

(Statement given August 31, 1908.)

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Erickson said: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally for attacks of backache and have always found relief."

Pacific Mail Company Will Suspend Sailings.

OBJECTS TO SEAMEN'S LAW

Steamship Line Operates One of the Largest Fleets in Foreign Trade Under the American Flag—Concern Balks at Law Compelling Employment of Native Born or Naturalized Citizens.

Washington, April 17.—The provision of the seamen's law to which the Pacific Mail Steamship company objects is that requiring a graduated percentage of seamen, beginning Nov. 4, 1915, and increasing each year, shall be American born or naturalized citizens.

San Francisco, April 17.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company, operating one of the largest fleets in foreign trade under the American flag, announced that all sailings after Nov. 2, 1915, had been canceled, because of the new seamen's law, which will go into effect Nov. 4.

The company operates with Chinese crews in its transpacific service.

The fleet plies between San Francisco, Honolulu, Japanese and Chinese ports and Manila and along the west coast.

The company's representatives said no freight contracts would be made beyond July 31, 1915.

The future of the Pacific Mail fleet, it was said recently by R. P. Schwerin, vice president and general manager of the company, would depend upon the action of the stockholders at the annual meeting of May 19. He said the added cost of operation under the new law would make continuous unprofitable.

"The Mongolia will sail on Nov. 2," a representative of the company said.

"She will not touch at Honolulu, because she could not get clearance there. No other vessels of the fleet will sail from this port, thereafter. They will be tied up here."

The Pacific Mail operates nineteen vessels, five of them in the transpacific trade.

KAISER ARRANGES
COUNCIL OF WAR.

Geneva, April 17.—According to reports which reached Basel from Berlin and Vienna, Emperor William has ordered the principal German generals and also some of the Austrian commanders to meet him in a grand conference to discuss the coming summer campaign.

The meeting, it is said, will be held within the next few days, either at Cologne or at Berlin.

SENATOR ALDRICH IS DEAD

Represented Rhode Island in Upper House Thirty Years.

New York, April 17.—Nelson W. Aldrich, for thirty years United States senator from Rhode Island and Republican leader whose name was stamped upon tariff and currency legislation of his party, died of an apoplectic stroke at his home on Fifth avenue here.

Senator Aldrich was in his seventy-fourth year. He will be buried in Swanpoint cemetery, Providence, R. I., Sunday.

Dr. John S. Thatcher, his family physician, had left Mr. Aldrich less than half an hour before he died.

Nelson W. Aldrich was born in Foster, R. I., Nov. 6, 1841, and entered politics at the age of thirty-four. He served in the Rhode Island assembly and in 1879 was sent to congress. Two years later he was elected United States senator. He represented Rhode Island in the senate until 1911, when he retired.

Senator Aldrich was principally celebrated for his part in financial reforms, as the author of the Aldrich-Vreeland currency act and as the co-author of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

BODY FOUND ON DOORSTEP

Officials Investigate Death of Man Shot Through Heart.

Cumberland, Wis., April 17.—Mystery surrounds the finding of the body of Alexander Hanson on the front doorstep of the farm home of James Nevin, eight miles southeast of here. He had been shot through the heart. The district attorney is investigating.

Hanson is said to have been engaged to Miss Martha Nevin. It is said that after Hanson moved to Stoughton, Miss Nevin went there to marry him, but her father followed and brought his daughter home.

Prison Camp Conditions

By Carl W. Ackerman,
United Press Staff Correspondent

Berlin, April 3, by mail to New York—England, on the whole, treats the Austro-German prisoners she has interned "as good as could be expected under the circumstances," according to a report made to U. S. Ambassador Gerard by John B. Jackson, an American who visited English prison camps. The sanitary conditions in some of the British camps were bad, Jackson reported. "The British commanders promised him, he said, that those situations would be improved."

On Feb. 1 Jackson reported England had interned 26,900 Germans and Austrians. These men were confined in 13 detention camps and on nine ships. Generally speaking the food and health of the prisoners was good, according to the report.

The Germans complained principally of the monotonous bill of fare and of their treatment after arrest, Jackson reported. Several Germans brought from South Africa swore they had been insulted and robbed, while others testified that they owed their lives to British soldiers, who protected them from mobs in France, while they were being transferred from the front to Great Britain.

"The new camps are better than the one first used," said the report. "Lack of organization and preparation would account for most of the hardships which prevailed at first. Absolutely nowhere did there seem to be any wish to make conditions any harder or more disagreeable for the prisoners than was necessary."

On the ship "Royal Edward" Jackson found 1,400 prisoners, Germans. Some of them were locked below decks at night, he said. This caused some nervousness, because of the fear of Zeppelin attacks. In the camp at Stratford, in the eastern part of London, Jackson declared the prisoners were permitted to have their own government. The men selected a "senate" the members of which were given certain authority over other prisoners.

"At Dorchester, the German senior non-commissioned officers have separate rooms, while the men are generally housed in stables, lofts and other rooms of the barracks," Jackson reported. "This camp was one of the most contented I visited. A man who made himself famous by attempting to escape in a box was there. After two weeks' confinement he was granted the same liberties as other prisoners. Pictures of the German Emperor and German flags were hanging in the rooms."

Jackson reported the worst conditions at Queen's Ferry, near Chester where 2,200 Austro-Germans were interned.

"The general atmosphere of this camp was the most depressing of all those I visited," he said. "Though the new camp had been occupied about five months, but little had been done to improve the original conditions. The buildings were there of an old machine shop. The roofs are of glass and there are many leaks. The floors are of stone and cement and as a rule the wooden beds are raised but a few inches. There were no special accommodations for the better class prisoners, though they had been allowed to build a kind of tent around their beds to protect themselves from leaks and drafts. The prisoners themselves seemed listless and not inclined to make much effort to improve conditions."

Labor difficulties were given frequently by the British authorities as the reason for their failure to improve conditions at the prison camps, Jackson reported.

A Veritable Solomon.
"Blinks is probably the wisest man in the world."

"Why such an outburst?"

"He can tell a woman's disposition without marrying her."—Philadelphia Ledger.

CONGRESSIONAL SEEDS

Garden and flower seeds are sent out in large quantities by the members of congress under their franking privilege at this season of the year. The members of congress are not so much to blame as the law stands. The expense of buying the seeds, which does not amount to anything to the individual receiving them, in the aggregate is enormous and the additional expense of the postage that the government has to stand makes a handsome amount that would go a long ways toward helping the government pay the expense of the rural carrier service, that the present administration seems bent on demoralizing. The seeds are merely political patronage with which the members keep in touch with their constituents, at government expense. The Verdale Sun, the Long Prairie Leader and other papers are advertising the fact that they have large quantities of the seeds from their congressman which will be mailed free on application.

CROWDING THE MOURNERS

A paragraph in a local exchange says:

A postoffice inspector visited Litchfield last week and ordered the editors of the Litchfield papers to stop the papers to all subscribers who were a year in arrears or else put a one cent stamp on the paper so delinquent.

This order has been a law for some time but apparently it has not been lived up to and the department is just getting busy and enforcing its provisions. It will have the effect to putting some newspapers out of business, as far as circulation is concerned. The Dispatch is fortunate in having a bona fide list that will stand the test.

What War Moves Mean

By J. W. T. Mason
(Written for the United Press)

New York, April 17.—The long delay that is occurring in the resumption of the allied "campaign" against Constantinople is undoubtedly reassuring to the Turks and makes improbable reports from London and Paris that Turkey is anxious to agree to a separate peace. The Turks have not as yet had any cause for regret for having entered the war. They have the better of the military situation as it exists today and if the allies are not able to press the Mohammendans any harder than they have done in the past, Turkey will emerge from the war a winner. If Bulgaria and Greece were to enter the war on the side of the allies the Turks would probably lose all their remaining territory in Europe and would be pushed back into Asia. But this most serious of all dangers to Turkey's ambitions has been so successfully evaded by both German diplomacy and by the inherent factors in the situation that Turkish optimism for the future is not without a basis. The Turks have lost during the war the southern part of the ancient Babylonian empire. British troops now occupy this district forming the Turkish headlands of the Persian Gulf. No other part of Turkish territory is in possession of the enemy, except possibly an isolated spot or two along the Armenian frontier.

On the other hand the Turks have penetrated some distance into Russian Caucasus province and they occupy as well a very large area of northern Persia. A comparison of the gains and losses is distinctly favorable to Turkey. While the Persian gulf hinterland is of immense value to England, it is simply a waste plot of ground to the unenterprising Turks. On the other hand Turkey has long been ambitious to acquire a foothold in Persia, which with its Mohammedans civilization is far more attractive to the Turks than the nomadic lands of southern Babylonia.

At the same time all the prestige of the recent Dardanelles engagement has fallen to the Turkish defenders and of course their German allies. It is unquestionably stimulating to the Turks to feel that the warships of France and England not only have been unable to make any serious impression on the Dardanelles fortifications, but also have been compelled to withdraw after serious losses. All these circumstances make it highly improbable that the Turks are desirous of making a separate surrender to the allies. Turkey doubtless will be willing to agree to peace now if she were allowed to retain what her armies have won in exchange for the loss of the Persian gulf territory. This, too, would be a satisfactory peace for England, but it is of course out of the question at present. Neither France nor Russia would agree to such a proposal and England's major interests are bound up with those of her allies.

Prison Camp Conditions

By Carl W. Ackerman,
United Press Staff Correspondent

Berlin, April 3, by mail to New York—England, on the whole, treats the Austro-German prisoners she has interned "as good as could be expected under the circumstances," according to a report made to U. S. Ambassador Gerard by John B. Jackson, an American who visited English prison camps. The sanitary conditions in some of the British camps were bad, Jackson reported. "The British commanders promised him, he said, that those situations would be improved."

On Feb. 1 Jackson reported England had interned 26,999 Germans and Austrians. These men were confined in 13 detention camps and on nine ships. Generally speaking the food and health of the prisoners was good, according to the report.

BUSY FOR HANDOUTS DAYTIME

Housewives Bothered by Importunate Beggars—The Robbery at the Kaupp Block

Seemingly glorying in the simple life, and cooking undisturbed their accumulated supplies of potatoes, hamburger steak, onions, etc., a pot gang is at its old haunt near the railway bridge and no one drives them away.

During the daytime beggars are at housewives' doors and many of them are insolent. Witness the incident at the home of Jacob Kaupp, the butcher. Mr. and Mrs. Kaupp have made it a rule to feed every hungry man who knocks at their door, but their hospitality was sadly abused a few days ago.

One of the men, befriended thus on more than one occasion, with a partner started to ransack the Kaupp flats and was about to make his getaway when captured by Mr. Kaupp. This Charles Smook, as he gave his name in police court, charged with breaking into a house, has been bound over to the grand jury.

With him was another man and the latter, James Tempelis says, threatened to thrash him when he refused to give him a handout. This is a fine lot of vagabonds to have camping and trailing undisturbed about the city.

NEW SUMMER HOTEL

Bemidji Will Have One of the Most Up-to-date Summer Hotels to be Completed June 1

When Cochran Hotel is completed it will be one of the most modern and complete summer hotels in the state. The main building which is three stories, will cover a ground space of 40x100 feet. The other buildings to be erected this summer will be a pavilion, 20x60 feet; a dining room 30x50 feet in size and a pool and billiard hall and about 12 cottages.

BRAINERD MAY GET CONVENTION

Commercial Secretaries and Officers to Hold Convention in May or June This Year

SEC. HANSING BOOSTS FOR CITY

150 to 200 Representatives From Commercial Bodies are Expected to be Present

C. E. Hansing, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has returned from St. Paul where he attended a meeting of Commercial secretaries, officers and representatives of Chambers of Commerce, Commercial clubs, and other commercial association in the state for the purpose of forming what is to be known as the Minnesota Civic and Commercial Federation. The Federation of Commercial Clubs of which D. M. Neil was president and Curtis L. Mosier of Minneapolis, was secretary, has been merged into the new organization. New articles of incorporation have been drafted, new officers appointed and Allan D. Albert of Minneapolis, chosen as executive chairman of the board of directors. The organization was perfected and launched by an almost unanimous vote, Duluth representatives being the only ones present who were not in sympathy with the plan.

It was decided to hold a meeting of commercial secretaries and officers of state commercial bodies the latter part of May or the early part of June at some central point in the state. Austin made a bid for the meeting as well as did Brainerd though it seemed to be the consensus of opinion of those present that Brainerd should be favored inasmuch as it was the most centrally located city with accommodations which were on a par with any city in the state. The matter however, was left to the board of directors but before leaving Secretary Hansing learned that the board looked with much favor on Brainerd.

The plan of the organization is to co-operate with the executives of commercial bodies throughout the state in a desire to work out and solve the many difficult problems that are confronted by members. At the first meeting all those attending will be asked to make suggestions and ask questions relative to their work while each will recite their experiences for the benefit of others who may from time to time have occasion to overcome similar obstacles or take up like campaigns.

It is predicted that 150 or 200 representatives from commercial bodies from all points of the state will be in attendance at the first meeting which will be spread over a period of two or three days. A great deal of good advertising will result from this gathering if obtained and members of the Chamber of Commerce are to be asked to do themselves proud in the entertainment of the visitors.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Northern Pacific and Soo Line Railways to Ship on 50-50 Basis This Season, is Report

HILL CREST MINE STARTS UP

First Water is Turned on This Week—Rowe Pit Mine is Building a Concentrators

Shipping on the Cuyuna Iron range this year, carried on by the Northern Pacific railway and the Soo line, it is reported, will be on a 50-50 basis, in other words, the tonnage will be divided. Last year the Northern Pacific railway connected up with the Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co., whose tonnage had previously been shipped entirely over the Soo. At Cedar Lake, on the Northern Pacific main line, Staples to Duluth, connection was made with the Soo line.

Of importance on the range was the opening of development work at the Hill Crest mine west of Iron-ton. There hydraulic equipment in the shape of one unit operated by electric power from the Cuyuna Range Power Co. is sluicing away the overburden. Water is obtained from Blackhoff lake near by. A sand sucker has been installed and the entire operation is similar to what was so successfully carried on at Riverton by the Rowe mine of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore Co. Wilbur VanEvera is the superintendent in charge and 25 men are being employed at the start.

The Rowe pit mine is working one unit of its hydraulic system and two steam shovels. A concentrator is being built. It is anticipated that a large tonnage will be mined and shipped this year. The Pennington people are stripping with one shovel the Armour No. 1 mine. The Thompson pit mine is using one shovel.

The Armour No. 2 underground mine of the Inland Steel Co. has started shipping and is now hoisting from shaft to cars. It is believed that the output from this mine will be 275,000 tons this season. The Kennedy underground mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. has not started shipping and is hoisting and stockpiling. A record breaking day was made by the Inland Steel Co. in their stripping operations last week when 558 cars were removed in one day.

H. J. Kruse, of Crosby, will soon have two drills in operation again.

The Hale-Bradley Exploration Co. is drilling for the Pioneer Development Co., of St. Paul and other parties in the Rice river country near Aitkin. C. B. Buckman, of Little Falls, former congressman of the sixth district and now deputy United States marshal, is interested in mineral land holdings near the Barrows mine. He and his associates will soon resume drilling in the south half of the southeast quarter of section 16 adjoining the Barrows mine. The mine is situated on the north half.

The Great Northern Exploration Co., exploring the forty near the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine, is meeting with great success. Ore has been found running up in the sixties, and it's not been in one hole but several that such a good showing was made.

The Wilcox mine at Woodrow is crosscutting and shipping the ore encountered. Additional raises are being provided for. When shipping is in full blast trainmen of the Northern Pacific hope to handle a train a day from this one mine. The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd is approaching the 150 level where drifting will be carried on. Charles C. Jones, of Duluth, managing directors of the company, was at the mine recently and pleased with the showing made by Supt. Andrew Johnson.

The Barrows Mining Co. expects to soon start work with its new shaft near Barrows. The newly patented steel and concrete method of building devised by Supt. C. B. Rowley, of Brainerd, will be used.

Of importance to Brainerd is the drill working out in section 21, east of Brainerd. Machinery is on the ground for sinking a shaft on the property on the north half of the northeast quarter of section 22, just east of Brainerd.

The drill of John R. Harrington is located on the north tract which the late Judge G. W. Holland bequeathed to the city of Brainerd. Ore has been struck and the first assays run 49.51 for the distance 144 feet to 164 feet. The drill is now down 248 feet and ore was struck at 146 feet. With Harrington, are associated mining men of Hibbing and St. Paul. A new drill and other equipment of the best kind was purchased.

John Olson, of Deerwood, and associates have secured an option on the north half of the northeast quarter of section 25, township 45, range 30 and are now placing drills on the property and will commence drilling at once. This land is owned by L. J.

Alberts of Deerwood, and is located five miles east of Brainerd and on the Oak street road.

The Iron Trade Review says that "a gradual increase in buying apart from the demand for war materials is being reflected in greater activity at mills and furnaces in firmer prices and a more confident feeling as to the future."

"Numerous inquiries for rails for export are pending, but some of this business evidently has gone to British mills and definite information as to other tonnages is lacking. Considerable war business is pending. The demand for machine tools in the Chicago district shows improvement and Pittsburgh manufacturers are in a more cheerful frame of mind."

"The pig iron market in the Chicago district shows improvement in inquiry and sales and it seems probable that bookings will soon make a good total. The order recently taken by the Canadian Car Foundry Co. for export calls for several million shells, of the value of about $80,000,000. A considerable part of the bar business has been sublet, as previously reported, but some remains to be placed. Reports of difficulty of American manufacturers in meeting the rigid specifications for shells are heard."

Thursday morning W. B. Cook was appointed receiver of the Duluth-Brainerd Mining company. The property owned by the company includes the northwest of the southwest of 32-29-47, on which they have a shaft about 150 feet deep. They are said to have a large body of ore.

He will also preach that evening at 7:45 P. M. in the church, corner of Sixth and Juniper. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

In his last report before the annual conference, Dr. Burns said: "The Duluth district covers the Northeast corner of the state of Minnesota, stretching 250 miles north and south, and about 150 miles east and west. In this territory Dr. Burns has about 52 charges under his supervision, and is doing a great work for the extension of religion. He will have a message on Thursday night, which will be vital and uplifting.

The story that Grace Fuda was kidnaped by two men, that she wore out her dainty dancing pumps walking eight miles at the point of a gun from New Duluth to Duluth, is regarded as just so much hot air by people in Brainerd who saw the girl.

She arrived in Brainerd with an extra skirt, waist and two pairs of stockings in a parcel.

She told the station agent at Brainerd Saturday evening that she came from Chicago, had an aunt there, that she wanted to go to Duluth. She had $2.10 in her purse. Agent Mosier and his wife helped to get her a position and interested Dick Herbert so that he sent her to a relative at Leaks Siding near Brainerd

Then she stopped short. The lift boy, who had had a little trouble with his starting apparatus and had not as yet descended, heard the scream which broke from her lips, and a fireman in an adjacent corridor came running up almost at the same moment. Lenora was on her knees by her mistress' side. Ella was still lying in the easy-chair in which she had been seated, but her head was thrown back in an unnatural fashion. There was a red mark just across her throat.

Lenora shrieked. "She's fainted! And the diamonds—the diamonds have gone!"

A doctor, hurriedly summoned, had just completed a hasty examination when a police inspector, followed by a detective, entered.

"This is your affair, gentlemen, not mine," the doctor said gravely. "The young lady is dead. She has been cruelly strangled within the last five or ten minutes."

The inspector made a careful examination of the room.

"Tell me," he inquired, "is this the young lady who owned the wonderful Ashleigh diamonds?"

"They've gone!" Lenora shrieked. "They've been stolen! She was wearing them when I left the room!"

The inspector turned to the telephone.

"Mr. Marsham," he said, "I am afraid this will be a difficult affair. I am going to take the liberty of calling in an expert. That you, exchange? I want number one, New York city—Mr. Sanford Quest."

CHAPTER IV.

There seemed to be nothing at all original in the methods pursued by the great criminologist when confronted with this tableau of death and robbery. His remarks to the inspector were few and perfunctory. He asked only a few languid questions of Macdougall and Lenora, who were summoned to his presence.

Macdougall then turned to leave the room. Lenora was about to follow, but Quest signed to her to remain.

"I should like to have a little conversation with you about your mistress," he said to her pleasantly. "If you don't mind, I will ask you to accompany me in my car. I will send the man back with you."

They descended in the lift together and Quest handed the girl into his car. They drove quickly through the silent streets.

In a few minutes Lenora was installed in an easy chair in Quest's sitting-room.

"Lean back and make yourself comfortable," Quest invited, as he took a chair opposite to her. "I must just look through these papers."

The girl did as she was told. She opened her coat. The room was delightfully warm, almost overheated. A sense of rest crept over her. She was conscious that Quest had laid down the letters which he had been pretending to read. His eyes were fixed upon her. There was a queer new look in them, a strange new feeling creeping through her veins.

Quest's voice broke an unnatural silence.

"You are anxious to telephone someone," he said. "You looked at both the booths as we came through the hotel. Then you remembered, I think, that he would not be there yet. Telephone now. The telephone is at your right hand. You know the number."

She obeyed almost at once.

"Number 709, New York city."

"You will ask," Quest continued, "whether he is all right whether the jewels are safe."

There was a brief silence then the girl's voice.

"Are you there, James? . . . Yes."

I am Lenora. Are you safe? Have you the jewels? . . . Where? . . . You are sure that you are safe? . . . No, nothing fresh has happened."

"You are at the hotel," Quest said softly. "You are going to him."

"I cannot sleep," she continued. "I am coming to you."

She set down the receiver. Quest leaned a little more closely over her.

"You know where the jewels are hidden," he said. "Tell me where?"

Her lips quivered. She made no answer.

"Very good," Quest concluded. "You need not tell me. Only remember this: At nine o'clock tomorrow morning you will bring those jewels to this apartment. . . . Rest quietly now. I want you to go to sleep."

She obeyed without hesitation.

Quest watched, for a moment, her regular breathing. Then he touched a bell by his side. Laura entered almost at once.

Together they carried the sleeping girl out of the room into a larger apartment. A single electric light was burning on the top of a square mirror fixed upon an easel. Towards this they carried the girl and laid her in an easy chair almost opposite to it.

"The battery is just on the left," Laura whispered.

Quest nodded.

"Give me the band."

She turned away for a moment and disappeared in the shadows. When she returned, she carried a curved band of flexible steel. Quest took it from her, attached it by means of a coil of wire to the battery, and with firm, soft fingers slipped it on to Lenora's forehead. Then he stepped back.

"She's a subject, Laura—I'm sure of it! Now for our great experiment!"

They watched Lenora intently.

"Lenora," Quest said, slowly and firmly, "your mind is full of one subject. You see your mistress in her chair by the fireside. She is toying with her diamonds. Look again. She lies there dead! Who was it entered the room, Lenora? Look! Look! Gaze into that mirror. What do you see there?"

The girl's eyes had opened. They were fixed now upon the mirror—distended, full of unholly things.

"Try harder, Lenora," he muttered, his own breath laboring. "It is there in your brain! Look!"

For a single second the smooth surface of the mirror was obscured. A room crept dimly like a picture into being, a fire upon the hearth, a girl leaning back in her chair. A door in the background opened. A man stole out. He crept nearer to the girl—his eyes fixed upon the diamonds, a thin, silken cord twisted round his wrist. Suddenly she saw him—too late! His hand was upon her lips, his face seemed to start almost from the mirror—then blackness!

Lenora opened her eyes. She was still in the easy-chair before the fire.

"Mr. Quest!" she faltered.

He looked up from some letters which he had been studying.

"I am so sorry," he said politely. "I really had forgotten that you were here. But you know—that you have been to sleep?"

"Can I go now?" she asked.

"Certainly," Quest replied. "To tell you the truth, I find that I shall not need to ask you those questions, after all. A messenger from the police station has been here. He says they have come to the conclusion that a very well-known gang of New York criminals are in this thing. We know how to track them down all right."

A Good Catch

GOT PICKEREL WITH HIS HANDS

Julius Deering Hero of a Feat Unheard of Before in the Fishing Annals of County

THE FISH WEIGHED 22 POUNDS

Is Vouched for by Four Other Fishermen, and Fishermen Always Tell the Truth

To catch a 22 pound pickerel bare handed is the feat or handiwork, would be more proper, of Julius Deering of this city. He was one of a party including Alderman George Hess, Alderman D. A. Peterson, City Engineer C. D. Peacock and Charles Nicholson.

The fishermen had been very successful at Gull lake and while traversing the thoroughfare between Mud and Gull lakes, where the water is but six inches deep, Mr. Deering boasted he could catch a fish with his hands.

The rest of the fishermen laughed and said the fish Deering would get would be few and far between. As the two cars reached a favorable spot Deering got on his hands and knees and stole along like a pointer smelling birds. He gave a yell as he grabbed a monster pickerel and soon Deering and the fish were having a wrestling match. Before the fight ended the water had been churned to mud and Deering and the fish were sights, but he landed his prize in the car and it proved to be the biggest pickerel in the catch.

VERNDALE ACCEPTS SERIES OF GAMES

Verndale Sun Says Manager Pettit Wants Locals to Get Going Good Before Tackling Brainerd

SIX OR EIGHT TEAM LEAGUE

"Bungo" Released, Theigs will be on the Receiving End—Lines Out for Good Players

The Verndale Sun in its last issue says:

It is evident that Brainerd has a wholesome respect for the Verndale Baseball team since that memorable game last summer which went twelve innings to a tie, for the first of the week Manager Pettit received a letter from the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city requesting dates for a series of games between the Verndale and Brainerd teams, to be played in both cities. Manager Pettit has accepted the proposition for a series of games, but has not arranged the dates as yet as he wants the locals to get going good before tackling Brainerd. Verndale has also been asked by Brainerd to join a six or eight team league, but does not look with favor on the proposition on account of the town being too small. On this account independent ball is more successful.

The Verndale team is without the services of a pitcher as yet. A couple of weeks ago "Bungo" Tower was signed up to play with Verndale this year, but a few days later asked to be released on account of having promised last fall to pitch for the Henning team again this year. Manager Pettit, however, has lined out for two or three good ones and expects to land one before the season opens and therefore is not worrying on that score. We can announce for sure the Theigs will again be on the receiving end this year and he has written that he will be in better shape than ever when the season opens.

The boys are waiting for the weather to warm up so that they can start practicing, but have been unable to do any work as yet.

The Koban rowboat motors are handled by Coffrain & Hess and to date they have sold five of them and others are contracted for. The motor is a two cylinder affair and has vibration reduced to an unknown quantity. They are very speedy and give universal satisfaction.

No Change in Fish Laws

There is some misunderstanding about the fish laws. While the legislature is considering bills changing present laws, none of these bills have passed as yet, and the old laws governing fishing still rules. This means that you can spear pickerel, suckers, red horse, carp and bull heads, but you cannot use artificial lights. The season for these fish is closed for hook and line fishing during March and April.

The BLACK BOX

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Author of "Mr. Cress of Monte Carlo," "The Vanished Messenger," "The Lighted Way," etc.

Novelized from the motion picture drama of the same name produced by the Universal Film Manufacturing Company. Illustrated with photographs from the motion picture production

(Copyright, 1915, by Otto F. Wood.)

Then she stopped short. The lift boy, who had had a little trouble with his starting apparatus and had not as yet descended, heard the scream which broke from her lips, and a fireman in an adjacent corridor came running up almost at the same moment. Lenora was on her knees by her mistress' side. Ella was still lying in the easy-chair in which she had been seated, but her head was thrown back in an unnatural fashion. There was a red mark just across her throat.

Lenora shrieked, "She's faint! And the diamonds—the diamonds have gone!"

A doctor, hurriedly summoned, had just completed a hasty examination when a police inspector, followed by a detective, entered.

The inspector made a careful examination of the room.

"Tell me," he inquired, "is this the young lady who owned the wonderful Ashleigh diamonds?"

"They've gone!" Lenora shrieked. "They've been stolen! She was wearing them when I left the room!"

The inspector turned to the telephone.

"Mr. Marsham," he said, "I am afraid this will be a difficult affair. I am going to take the liberty of calling in an expert. That you, exchange? I want number one, New York city—Mr. Sanford Quest."

CHAPTER IV.

There seemed to be nothing at all original in the methods pursued by the great criminologist when confronted with this tableau of death and robbery. His remarks to the inspector were few and perfunctory. He asked only a few languid questions of Macdougall and Lenora, who were summoned to his presence.

Macdougall then turned to leave the room. Lenora was about to follow, but Quest signed her to remain.

"I should like to have a little conversation with you about your mistress," he said to her pleasantly. "If you don't mind, I will ask you to accompany me in my car. I will send the man back with you."

They descended in the lift together and Quest handed the girl into his car. They drove quickly through the silent streets.

In a few minutes Lenora was installed in an easy chair in Quest's sitting-room.

"Lean back and make yourself comfortable," Quest invited, as he took a chair opposite to her. "I must just look through these papers."

The girl did as she was told. She opened her coat. The room was delightfully warm, almost overheated. A sense of rest crept over her. She was conscious that Quest had laid down the letters which he had been pretending to read. His eyes were fixed upon her. There was a queer new feeling creeping through her veins.

Quest's voice broke an unnatural silence.

"You are anxious to telephone someone," he said. "You looked at both the booths as we came through the hotel. Then you remembered, I think, that he would not be there yet. Telephone now. The telephone is at your right hand. You know the number."

She obeyed almost at once.

"Number 700, New York city."

"You will ask," Quest continued, "whether he is all right whether the jewels are safe."

There was a brief silence then the girl's voice.

"Are you there, James? . . . Yes."

I am Lenora. Are you safe? Have you the jewels? . . . Where? . . . You are sure that you are safe? . . . No, nothing fresh has happened."

"You are at the hotel," Quest said softly. "You are going to him."

"I cannot sleep," she continued. "I am coming to you."

She set down the receiver. Quest leaned a little more closely over her. "You know where the jewels are hidden," he said. "Tell me where?"

Her lips quivered. She made no answer.

"Very good," Quest concluded. "You need not tell me. Only remember this: At nine o'clock tomorrow morning you will bring those jewels to this apartment. . . . Rest quietly now. I want you to go to sleep."

She obeyed without hesitation. Quest watched, for a moment, her regular breathing. Then he touched a bell by his side. Laura entered almost at once.
